

RENEW FIGHTING ON BELGIAN COAST

Battle Around Ypres, First Since Beginning of War, Heard in London

GERMANS GET NEARER DUNKIRK

Berlin Claims 1,250 Prisoners and 600 Yard Advance For 1,400 Yards; Movement May Be Local, But Indicates Attempt to Bend British Flank; Cossacks Rushing Onward Toward Lemberg.

On the Belgian coast east of Dunkirk the British and Germans are fighting again along the Yser, the scene of many hard fought battles. By destroying the bridges along the Yser between Nieuport and the North Sea coast the Germans were able to advance and occupy the isolated section. Berlin claims the capture of 1,250 prisoners and the penetration of 600 yards along a front of 1,400 yards.

Further inland, near Lombaertzyde, the Germans did not have as much success. After gaining some advance positions the British threw the attackers back to their own line by a counterattack. Whether the German effort is another attempt to reach Dunkirk or Calais or is merely a stroke to offset a probable British offensive movement has not developed yet. Sounds of the distant firing were heard in London from 6 a. m. until nearly midnight and again today, beginning at dawn. In some London suburbs tremors like a slight earthquake could be felt.

Bend British Flank.

This movement, while it may turn out to be merely a local effort or something with which the British cope after the first shock of the thrust has been made, nevertheless indicates the possibility of a determined effort to bend back the British flank on the Belgian coast and reach the French city of Dunkirk, about 17 miles distant.

The Germans succeeded in their initial push by leveling the defenses through an intense bombardment for 24 hours and then attacking last evening over the devastated ground. The bridges across the Yser were devastated by the heavy fire and the sending up of reinforcements was found to be impossible. Thus a penetration of 600 yards on a front of 1,400 yards was effected, the Germans pushing as far as the east bank of the Yser near the North sea.

Partly Forced Back.

The attack also extended further south, opposite Lombaertzyde, but here, after having temporarily driven in the British advanced line, the Germans were counter attacked and forced back to their original positions. There have been no serious attempts by the Germans to break through the British front in Belgium since their two campaigns for Calais in the early months of the war. The first was checked along the Belgian front by the combined British and Belgian defense, aided by the participation of British warships along the coast. In the second battle of Ypres, in the fall of 1914, the Germans sacrificed thousands of men in a terrific drive but failed to effect a penetration.

Russians Push On.

Having broken the strong Austro-German line in the vicinity of Halicz the Russians are pushing forward from Halicz toward Lemberg, the capital of Galicia and from Stanislaw.

TRADING WITH ENEMY BILL PASSED BY HOUSE

MUST HAVE LICENSE TO TRADE WITH ENEMY COUNTRIES

Washington, D. C., July 11.—The administration trading with the enemy bill, containing prohibition against business intercourse with any country with which the United States is at war, or its allies, except under license and providing for government seizure of alien enemy, and enemy patents, passed the house today without a record vote.

In general the measure is modeled after Great Britain's trading with the enemy act, but certain features of Britain's legislation which were considered of doubtful validity in international law were omitted. A section which would have prohibited any messages between the United States and enemy territory was stricken out and the provision restricting firms in neutral countries was modified so that such firms would be reached by the act only if they had inter-related business relations with firms in the United States and enemy countries. The bill now goes to the senate.

PATRIOTISM IS NOT TALKING PROFITS

WILSON APPEALS TO BUSINESS NOT TO BE SELFISH

Washington, D. C., July 11.—President Wilson appealed to the country's business interests tonight to put aside every selfish consideration and to give their aid to the nation as freely as those who go out to offer their lives on the battlefield.

In a statement addressed to the coal operatives and manufacturers he gave assurances that just prices will be paid by the government and the public during the war, but warned that no attempt to extort unusual prices will be tolerated.

"Your patriotism," says the appeal, "is of the same self denying stuff as the patriotism of the men dead and maimed on the field of France or it is no patriotism at all. Let us never speak then of profits and patriotism in the same sentence."

"I shall expect every man who is not a slacker to be at my side throughout this great enterprise. In it no man can win honor who thinks of himself."

The President declared there must be but one price for the government and for the public. He expressed confidence that business generally will be found loyal to the last degree and the problem of war time prices which he declared would "mean victory or defeat" would be solved rightly through patriotic devotion.

Track officials held a hurried conference and decided to terminate the meet at once.

MAY NOT DRAFT UNTIL SOME TIME NEXT WEEK

APPORTIONMENTS DETERMINED BY CENSUS ESTIMATE

Washington, D. C., July 11.—Postponement of the drawing of numbers of men who will be called for examination for the National Army seemed probable today when it became evident that states are not completing organization of their district examination boards as rapidly as war department officials had hoped. Only 21 states have reported their organization complete, although in most others only a few districts are missing. The drawing will not be made until the lists for the country are complete.

A so-called revised census estimate for the entire country, compiled on the basis of the draft registration, will be for determining apportionments. Each city, county or state must furnish two-thirds of one per cent of its paper population, according to the new estimates, which were made for the purpose of equalizing the draft rather than to represent accurate population totals.

Thus New York city with estimated population of 6,504,185 must give 43,452 of 687,000 young men to be called on the first draft. A city with 25,000 population would be required to give 166 men. These apportionments would be subject to slight allowances for alien enemies, for men who have volunteered and for other causes.

The population estimates, far from attempting to show actual populations, simply are improvised figures reached by considering the number of registrants in each sub-division as 9.32 per cent of the population, since the total number registered, 9,660,382, was 9.32 per cent of the total estimated population, 103,685,300. The process resulted in large dummy population showings for cities with war industries where there has been a recent inflow of workmen without their families.

Pleas for exemption of any man need not be made by him but may be entered by a wife, other dependents, employer or any other third person, the provost marshal's office explained in a statement. It also explained that any registered man absent from his home district need not return for physical examination, but may be ordered by his home district to be examined elsewhere.

Estimates of the leading cities include New York city (including Bronx, Kings, N. Y., Queens and Richmond counties) 6,504,185; Philadelphia, 2,060,021; Pittsburgh, 722,425; Buffalo, 606,384; Newark, 469,281. Other cities' estimates include: Albany, 118,841; Binghamton, 72,221; Auburn, 34,528; Jamestown, 41,148; Elmira, 45,311; Poughkeepsie, 33,476; Rochester, 298,112; Amsterdam, 36,320; Niagara Falls, 79,689; Utica, 112,082; Syracuse, 197,393; Troy, 68,015; Schenectady, 101,052; Mt. Vernon, 32,854; Yonkers, 95,440.

SUFFRAGE PICKETING HURTS NEW YORK CAUSE

TWO GO TO WASHINGTON TO PROTEST SITUATION

New York, July 11.—Mrs. Frank A. Vanderlip and Mrs. James Lees Laiblaw, representing the New York State Women Suffrage party, went to Washington today to protest against further picketing of the white house by members of the national women's party. They carried a personal appeal for Mrs. Norman De R. Whitehouse, chairman of the New York State Suffrage party in which she asked that the militant organization sacrifice its individual policies, which she said had aroused public antagonism, so that an unclouded issue might be presented to the New York voters next November.

Miss Ann Martin, vice chairman of the congressional union, who received the New York women was quoted as refusing, in the name of the organization to stop picketing.

ACCUSE LUTHERANS OF AIDING GERMANY

NEBRASKA STATE COUNCIL HAD MADE INVESTIGATION

Lincoln, Nebraska, July 11.—Anti-war activities in Nebraska, that in the opinion of the state council of defense tend to give aid and comfort to Germany have been disclosed by the council in a statement it issued today charging leaders of the Lutheran church and certain professors in the state university with "treasonable utterances and disloyal activities."

The statement it is explained was issued only after "the most solemn and serious investigation and consideration" and is based upon reports from every section of the state and upon hundreds of letters from patriotic men, many of whom declare they have lost thousands of dollars because they would not "tamely submit to pro-German influences."

Specifically it is charged that bankers who invested in Liberty loan bonds were threatened with withdrawal of deposits; that the sale of war bonds has been actively opposed; that Red Cross relief work has met alarming antagonism; that the Lutheran church has failed to take a single step toward organizing for war relief work; and "its conspicuous representatives" have shown marked partiality for the German cause; that certain professors at Nebraska university have been guilty of disloyal utterances; that there are communities where the sympathies of the people are with Germany.

The names of men accused were not made public.

Prominent Lutheran churchmen here said the council should have confined its denunciation to German Lutherans and asserted there was no cause to question their loyalty. German Lutherans who were alleged to be in sympathy with Germany would not discuss the charges.

Chancellor Samuel Avery of the University of Nebraska, who has been very active in patriotic relief work and has taken part in the campaign for recruits, would not be quoted but it is known he has strongly disavowed utterances of several German professors whose remarks have caused dissension in the university.

Syracuse, July 11.—The New York State Allied Printing Trade council, representing 50,000 wage earners, in convention here today pledged "our loyalty, support and service on the battlefield and in every other way that we can be of assistance to the limit of our capacity and endurance."

An imperial ministry of labor will be created under the Socialists, Herbert or David.

The above dispatch does not reveal the identity of the ministers who resigned. Foreign Minister Zimmermann and Vice Chancellor Helfferich have been mentioned most often during the past few days as the ministers who would lose their portfolios.

VOTE MILLION FOR WAR RELIEF

Benevolent Order in Convention Gives Tumultuous Applause

TO USE FOR HOSPITALS

Special Commission Named to Investigate Ways to Cooperate With Red Cross

Boston, Mass., July 11.—Amid a stirring scene of patriotism, the grand lodge of the Benevolent and Protective order of Elks late today appropriated a fund of $1,000,000 for war relief work. The incoming grand exalted ruler, Fred C. Harper, of Lynchburg, Va., was instructed to appoint a special commission of five to determine the method and form the work should take. A committee recently appointed to investigate the subject reported that a portion of the amount should be devoted to establishing base hospital units, in cooperation with the American Red Cross.

Presentation of a resolution calling for the appropriation of the fund was received with tumultuous applause and cheering by the delegates and upon its adoption the assembly stood and sang "America."

The subject of relief work was introduced by John K. Tener, president of the National Baseball league, and chairman of a special committee consisting of Joseph T. Starnes, Indianapolis, Ind.; Jerome T. Fisher, Jamestown, Governor Charles E. Brough, Fayetteville, Ark.; United States Senator Charles B. Chamberlain, Portland, Oregon, and James R. Nicholson, Springfield, Mass.

The report stated that the committee "felt justified in concluding that any war relief which the Elks might undertake should properly be administered in co-operation with the Red Cross."

Conferences between the committee and Red Cross and war council officials at Washington, the report stated developed that "the crying need at this time is for the proper care of the sick and wounded fighting men and in the proper administration of such relief, hospitals and hospital work naturally suggest itself."

In suggesting the establishment of base hospital units, the report said: "The base hospital unit most acceptable to the government is one which will care at all times for 500 sick and wounded, the staff of such a hospital consisting of 26 surgeons, 68 nurses, and 150 orderlies and which may be completely and acceptably equipped for about $60,000."

"The expense of maintaining such hospital units will be borne by the government when the unit is accepted by it. After the hospitals are established and accepted by the government a portion of the fund might well be used in providing necessary comforts for the patients which the government in its maintenance does not provide."

Earlier in the session George M. Byron of Hoboken, N. J., offered a resolution calling for the affiliation of the grand lodge in the United States and grand lodge in the dominion of Canada, but he was instructed to bring the matter up again at the next session in Atlantic City in 1918. The ritual committee reported a number of changes that were adopted.

REPUBLICAN TROOPS NOW HOLDING PEKING

COMPLETE ABDICATION OF CHINESE EMPEROR EXPECTED

Washington, D. C., July 11.—Entry of the republican troops into Peking was announced in a despatch to the Chinese legation today, indicating that the monarchial coup d'etat had come to complete failure.

The despatch was the first in two weeks to come through direct from the Peking foreign office. The complete abdication of the Manchurian emperor, Chang Tsun, it is said, is expected momentarily along with the arrest of General Chang Tsun, the military adventurer responsible for the coup.

General Chang has withdrawn to the imperial city, a sacred section of Peking, where it is reported his troops are fast deserting him. Escape is cut off, the republicans controlling all four railroads out of the capital, and officials here believe that at last China is about to relieve herself of a military leader who has been a thorn in the side of the republic ever since its inception.

The legation despatches are not clear as to whether President Li, reported to have fled to the Japanese embassy in Peking for safety, has returned to his office, or if acting President Song Kwo Chang is still serving. Today's despatches reported the resignation of Dr. Wu Ting Fang as minister of foreign affairs on the ground of ill health and the acceptance of his resignation by the president.

PROGRESS WITH FOOD BILL COMPROMISES

WOULD ACQUIRE LIQUOR IN BOND ADDING 10 PER CENT TO COST

Washington, D. C., July 11.—Considerable progress toward a compromise on food control legislation was made today in the senate but several important features still are to be worked out and the whole outlook remains uncertain.

On the floor perfunctory debate continued on the administration bill which leaders virtually have agreed to abandon but in the agricultural committee such headway was made with consideration of Senator Gore's substitute measure that members said final committee approval was withheld only by minor details.

There are new provisions prohibiting manufacture and importation of distilled liquor and would provide of government acquisition of all liquor now in bond at cost plus 10 per cent. The latter provision embodied in the Smoot amendment has been under repeated attack both from wets and dries since its adoption.

Whether the committee's action on that point will be acceptable to the senate or will reopen the whole prohibition fight is problematical.

Tomorrow the committee will meet again and may give formal approval to the measure and report it as a substitute for the administration bill. The Democratic steering committee also will hold a conference on the subject in an effort to make certain that legislation will be put before the senate that will receive a majority vote on July 21.

Sentiment in the agriculture committee today was said to be overwhelming in favor of legislation along the line of the Gore bill restricting the general scope of the legislation to food and fuel. The committee informally approved amendments extending federal licensing provision to fuel, limiting absolute government control to wheat and fuel, and changing the language of the distilled beverage commandeering section so as to remove technical objections to the price fixing clause.

Whether the Gore substitute or a bill along similar lines will be offered finally with the administration's backing is yet to be determined. It is probable that President Wilson's advice will be sought by leaders before a substitute will be drafted.

The committee is said to be in a section providing that persons employed in the administration of the measure shall not be exempted from military service.

War Department Decides Small Men Fight as Well as Big.

Washington, D. C., July 11.—Small men make as good soldiers as big men in the revised opinion of the war department, which has instructed recruiting stations to open the ranks of the regular army to men not more than five feet one inch in height and who weigh not more than 110 pounds.

The order was issued on a recommendation made by Surgeon General Gorgas, who advised that good men were being kept out by the minimum height and weight limit of five feet four inches and 120 pounds.

The young man will answer to the name of Ernest Fred. — A goodly number attended the Epworth league service at this place sabbath evening. The meeting was under the leadership of C. Harold Fanning. The choir gave a song service to the delight of all. The service was one of inspiration to all who attended.

Moving an Army. Some idea of the adequacy of the equipment of the railroads of the United States for the movement of troops may be obtained from a statement prepared by an official of the quartermaster corps, United States army.

To move one field army of 80,000 men, consisting of three infantry divisions, one cavalry division and a brigade, technically known as a brigade of field army troops—troops auxiliary to the infantry and cavalry divisions—requires a total of 6,229 cars, made up into 386 trains with as many locomotives. These 6,229 cars would be made up of 2,115 passenger, 353 baggage, 1,055 box, 1,899 stock and 773 flat cars.

This quantity of equipment represents 0.7 of 1 per cent of the locomotives owned by American railroads, 4.2 per cent of their passenger cars and 0.2 of 1 per cent of their freight equipment—American industries.

Washed Dishes at the Table.

In former centuries a cistern for the washing of dishes at the table was part of the furniture of a well appointed dining room in England. The plates were rinsed in it when necessary during the meal. Pepys in his diary tells of purchasing a pewter cistern as part of his preparations for a dinner of state. A magnificent silver cistern is still preserved in the dining room at Burghley House, the seat of the Marquis of Exeter.

BANTAMS WELCOMED IN ARMY

Sawed Off, Who Wanted to Form Regiment, Told Rule Is Waived.

Little men are just as welcome in the army as big men, provided they are strong and tough.

This was learned at the war department when an enterprising short man, somewhat irritated because he thought his lack of stature a bar to enlistment, wrote to Secretary Baker:

"If you will give me the authority to raise a regiment of little men, a bantam regiment, I will get them together in a short space of time and guarantee that they will do more effective work in a day than a like number of big men can do in a week."

In declining the offer the war department informed the bantam colonel that recruiting officers have instructions to waive minimum height rules, provided applicants have frames which are heavy enough to do the work which will be assigned to them.

SAYS FINE FOR SORE BURNING, INFLAMED FEET

Don't worry when you feel smart and burn and ache and feel sore all day long. You can easily get rid of the agony and distress by drawing out the inflammation with Peterson's Ointment.

"I know a hundred men," says Peterson, "who tell me that after trying the many things advertised for sore feet that the only relief they found was in a 25 cent box of Peterson's Ointment."

"Rub it on fresh before going to bed, first washing the feet with soap and hot water, and I'm sure you'll sleep sound and wake up in the morning with feet almost as good as new and soreness all gone."

Sore feet is a common, yet painful ailment that can be readily conquered by the use of Peterson's Ointment, which has cured thousands of Eczema, Piles, Running sores and skin diseases. Every druggist in America is authorized to refund your money if Peterson's Ointment doesn't do as advertised.

Note: By sore feet Peterson means inflammation, smarting, burning, itching, weary feet, and not corns, bunions or callouses.

A few months ago the U-boat campaign was the principal issue in this country. Now it is the principal issue in Germany.

The senate passes the daylight saving bill. But the senate isn't doing very much itself in the way of saving time when it comes to legislation. Why not finish up its work and get back to the states, where, if nothing else, they can help in fixing fences?

The Pacific Socialists of Boston are thrifty souls. They are going to sue the city for $1,000 damages for the destruction of their flags and banners which they carried and the wording on which caused the riot which broke up the parade. If all organizations parading for pacifism valued the national flag as highly they would have no reason to lament the loss of their own.

In Porto Rico, where there is a vote presently to be taken on the prohibition question, the reformers have chosen a coconut as the emblem on their ballots. By some investigators, however, the emblem is held to be a trifle enigmatical. If the juice of the coconut is "duice" it is as harmless as sweet cider. If it is fermented it is called "pica-pica," and is as different from the "duice" as hard cider is from the newly expressed juice of the apple.

Russians have lately shown a commendable desire to "follow their leader." It is not always a feature of revolutions, even when the revolution tends toward republicanism, as witness the French riots following the war of 1872; but if the Russians have already learned the lesson that liberty does not mean that every man may go as he pleases, they have gone a long way toward the establishment of a stable democracy.

There is woe among the habitues of the New York city drinking places as a result of a resolution adopted Tuesday by the Liquor Dealers' association, which controls 5,000 saloons. Their resolution calls for the abolition of the free lunch, an increase of five cents per glass on all imported drinks, an increase to 20 cents per pint for beer in growlers, and smaller beer glasses for everybody. With these restrictions the prohibition question will go some distance toward settling itself. And nobody can give the free lunch as an excuse for dropping in at the gin shop.

There is a pretty general opinion throughout the country that the foot control bill is being loaded with so many amendments that it will not in any reasonable season get through. If congress would pass a bill of reasonable length, unencumbered with verbiage, and which more than anything else would give to the president full authority in the premises, everybody who has no personal, political or other axe to grind would be satisfied. In an emergency like the present there may be too many would-be dictators. The one man who should have responsibility is President Wilson, and it is a poor majority which, joined with most of the minority in congress, does not give him the power to direct, unencumbered and outright.

With the actual entrance of the United States army into war, the requirements of the army regulations are being gradually relaxed. Formerly a soldier had to be at least four inches over five feet high, and he must weigh 120 pounds. Now he need be only 61 inches high, and the minimum weight is only 110 pounds. This is evidently the little man's day, and very properly. There is no reason why the little man should not do his share in the fighting as well as the big fellow, and certainly he is a less conspicuous target. Also, the world has not yet forgotten the exploits of Napoleon—the "Little Corporal." The world would have lost the greatest of its generals if France had declined to take in men under the stature of Frederick the Great's stalwart grenadiers.

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS

No Real Reform in Sight.

If there should be electoral reform in Germany, it will give the people larger representation in the powerless Reichstag, the body which can only talk, the debating society, the "hall of echoes." But the power which alone can act will be wholly unaffected, and its ability to desolate the world whenever its own interests seem to dictate such a thing will be the same as before. No more than ever will the German people have any voice in the matter.—[New York Times.]

The Present German Crisis.

It is a great crisis, fraught with incalculable possibilities, but is not necessarily or probably the beginning of the collapse of Germany, and it may easily result in the strengthening of the German government in the eyes of its own people if it brings the German government to adopt a moderate program which will be joyfully accepted by Germany's allies and will place a new burden upon the governments of the allied nations. Meantime, what is most interesting must be not the course of the Socialists or the Radicals, but of the clerical center. Unless it supports Bethmann he will ultimately have to go, and if it insists upon an adoption of the peace without annexation formula it will in the end prevail. Meanwhile it is a great deal too early to interpret as a victory for democracy and a promise of peace what may not be more than a question of domestic politics.—[New York Tribune.]

Wilson—That's All!

Does not the senate think the President has enough trouble with congress and a war on his hands at one and the same time without adding to his duties that of chief bartender of the country?—[New York Herald.]

Bad news for summer resort keepers along the coast is to be found in the report that several schools of sharks have been sighted between the Delaware and Hatteras capes, bound northward. New Jersey people had an experience with sharks last year which it had been hoped was not to be repeated. There is happily room left for believing that this alleged shark raid will prove as innocuous as the scares about submarines along the coast.—[Culca Press.]

Whether there is any decision for Mexico to break with Germany is a matter wholly for the Mexicans to determine. The republic could not become an important factor if she severed relations and entered the war, as is suggested in reports from across the border. But what is gratifying to the United States is the apparent growth of friendliness for this country. This is the news travelers are bringing back. Probably Mexicans are beginning to realize that we have no annexation purposes and are perfectly willing for the republic to go her way unmolested if she attends strictly to business and keeps her raiders south of the Rio Grande.—[Brooklyn Standard Union.]

An applicant who was described as an "insect exterminator," was granted conditional exemption from the Birmingham Military Tribunal last week. He is a house disinfecter, and it was stated that his services were of the utmost importance to the health of the community.—[London Times.]

Too much importance must not be attached to the riots and near-riots which took place recently in New York city with the opposition to the draft as the basis. They were merely the ravings of that more or less select body of men and women who love to call themselves Industrial Workers or Internationalists, although they never seem to do any work other than to rebel against everything but their meals and their own sweet wills, and they may properly be termed internationalists for the simple reason that no country would care to call them its children.—[Buffalo Commercial.]

It may have suddenly occurred to someone in Washington that to censor news dispatches from France to the United States was not effective means to prevent information from being sent from this country to Germany.—[Springfield Republican.]

Under sentence to the penitentiary for conspiracy to violate the draft law, Alexander Berkman and Emma Goldman loudly asserted that they had been convicted because they were anarchists. The actual truth is that they violated law because they were anarchists, and it was for that transgression that they were punished.—[New York World.]

The testimony of General Scott is the first definite military opinion that has come from a high officer in a position to judge of the condition and qualities of the Russian forces in the field as they actually exist today. He summed up the situation in the words, "The Russian army is going to fight." By way of proving it, in eight days in Galicia it has taken 26,000 prisoners and scores of guns.—[New York World.]

FOR COUNTY TREASURER.

John W. Shaw of Morris Candidate for Republican Nomination.

According to the request of numerous friends who have been urging him again to accept the Republican nomination for the office which he now holds, County Treasurer Shaw announces that he will be a candidate for that position at the primary election to be held in September.

Mr. Shaw has been treasurer of Otsego county for the past six years, succeeding to that office after ten years as supervisor of the town of Morris. The record of his earlier service, his friends claim, and that which he has made since he assumed his present position, are ample evidence of his experience, ability and efficiency. During the past few years the duties of the county treasurer have become much more numerous and complicated; and, irrespective of party, they feel that Mr. Shaw should be retained in a position for which special training is necessary and in which he has shown conspicuous fitness, no criticism of his administration having been expressed or implied by the state authorities or his constituents during his whole term of office.

Having consented after serious deliberation again to be a candidate, Mr. Shaw solicits the support of all voters of Otsego county to whom his record in the past appeals, assuring them that in the event of his renomination and re-election, he will give the county the best that is in his power of faithful and conscientious service.

GRACE VIOLET PAGE

Miss Grace Violet Page, daughter of a very wealthy resident of Point Loma, San Diego, Cal., is in New York today, determined to win her own way independently in the world. She has not yet availed herself of her father's office to telegraph when she needs help.

URGES CANNING AND DRYING.

Representative of Department of Agriculture Here to Promote Interest.

Oneonta's splendid results in establishing and developing gardens under the direction of the Board of Education and the Chamber of Commerce are attracting considerable attention throughout the state, and in fact, even at Washington.

The secretary of the Chamber of Commerce has been in constant touch with the various departments of food conservation and the United States Department of Agriculture and the State Department of Education. All these agencies have commended highly the work and service Oneonta has rendered.

Miss Achsah Lippincott of the United States Department of Agriculture of Washington, D. C., was in Oneonta yesterday and made numerous inquiries concerning the product of the various gardens. Her mission was to enlist the interest of the city to see that canning and drying was brought to the attention of the housewives. Miss Lippincott states that the heavy production in many cities has caused some apprehension by the federal authorities as to whether the food will be preserved or allowed to waste. In almost every city there is marked activity among women's organizations toward stimulating the proper preserving of perishable foods. With the splendid array of gardens and promise of a large yield of edibles, Miss Lippincott hopes Oneonta will see that no waste will be permitted.

BENEFIT DANCE AT ARMORY.

Announced for Some Evening Next Week—All Should Buy Tickets.

As a safeguard against a "rainy" day, the members of Company G, First New York Infantry, soon to be called into federal service for the duration of the war with Germany, are arranging for a benefit dance at the armory some evening during the week of July 16 to be announced later. A band concert, parade or possibly a drill may precede the dancing as additional entertainment for the company's guests during the evening. The proceeds from the dance will go into the company's treasury and will be used only to meet emergencies in the field. While on a tour of service similar to that on which Company G is about to enter, men must of necessity forego all the pleasures and comforts of home. Long journeys, fatiguing and lonesome, must be made, woe-glad trains bearing the baggage and provisions for the company or regiment off times are delayed to a degree that the men dependent upon their contents for comfort or subsistence experience hardships that are nerve trying. Then it is that the funds which are hoped to be raised through the medium of a benefit dance fulfill their mission. In buying a ticket of one of the men, whether you can attend the dance or not, you can enjoy the satisfaction of knowing that you have helped to tide the boys who are fighting your battles as well as their own, over some such emergency.

Luncheon for Enlisted Members.

Several members are already in service in Panama, having been assigned to duty in the Canal zone. All members are urged to be present.

Valor and Value!

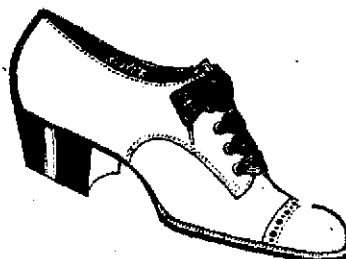

The valor of a soldier isn't determined by the stripes on his sleeve, any more than the value of clothes is determined by the price on the sleeve ticket. Valor and value are alike; they represent respectively what the soldier DOES and what a suit of clothes DOES.

KUPPENHEIMER CLOTHES

bear very striking outward marks of superiority, their style is readily recognizable as "select;" they give the wearer a well-groomed appearance that many a custom tailor envies. LOCAL MENTION.

—Little change is reported in the condition of Mrs. Hanley at the Fox Memorial hospital last evening. Certainly no improvement can be reported.

—Mrs. Carl Steere and Mrs. J. P. Elliott will entertain the ladies of the May division of the First Presbyterian church, at a noon luncheon Friday, July 13, at Dr. and Mrs. Elliott's camp at Goodyear lake.

—The total registration in the Oneonta Normal summer school reached 330 yesterday. Other applications are expected through the week, and it is probable that the total attendance for the term will not be less than 350.

—Numerous deredations by clothes line thieves have lately been reported from families residing on or near Main street, in the central part of the city. Detectives are at work and it is expected that developments will soon be made.

—Those who have not as yet secured their Chautauqua tickets should make early application at one of the following places: Wilber National bank, Citizens' National bank, R. W. Murdock's shoe store or the bookstore of Henry Saunders. For the next three days they can be secured at the special advance sale price of $2.

AN EXCELLENT PROGRAM.

Reports From Other Places Indicate Best of Satisfaction.

Mr. Hazeltine, the advance man for the Redpath Chautauqua, which opens on Wednesday next, has arrived in the city and has visited in all five places where the Chautauqua has opened and he declares that the public are exceptionally well pleased with the program of the year and quite universally declare it is in all respects the most satisfactory and pleasing program the company has presented upon the New York circuit.

The demand for tickets from the advance subscribers continues and as the general sale will be pushed for the two final days of the week those who subscribed and have not as yet secured their tickets should do so today. When the general sale is opened on Friday the sale will be continued only so long as the requisite number of 750 tickets have been sold when they will be advanced to the regular price of $2.50. For the balance of the week or until the number stated have been sold they can be secured at the low price of $2.00, which is very low for such a series of high grade entertainments.

Meetings Today.

There will be a meeting of the Anna E. Wilber auxiliary at A. L. Judd's store this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for the purpose of doing some work for Company G, N. G. N. Y. By order of commander.

HOSPITAL ADDITION PLANNED

HOPE TO HAVE NEW PART COMPLETED WITHIN THE COMING YEAR.

Annual Reports of Fox Hospital Show Building to Have Been Overcrowded Many Times During the Past Year—Daily Average of Patients 22.

Reports presented at the annual meeting of the Fox Memorial Hospital society, held Monday evening, disclose that the building has been overcrowded many times during the past year and that the association is now having plans and specifications prepared for a substantial addition and that the hope is entertained that the addition will be completed before the close of another year. The financial report is encouraging with a substantial balance of cash on hand.

The reports of President Walter L. Brown and of Miss Cady, the superintendent, follow:

President Brown's Report.

To the Board of Directors of the Aurelia Osborn-Fox Memorial Hospital society.

Gentlemen:

There is very little to report since our last meeting in October, 1916. We have had a daily average of 22 patients, which means of course that we have been overcrowded many times, and the need of additional accommodation greatly felt.

Preparations for the building of an addition have been going steadily forward, and specifications are now being prepared. As soon as they are completed we shall be ready for bids from contractors, and hope soon to have the building under way.

With the prospect of the hospital capacity of the country, and particularly of this state being overtaxed with our returned soldiers, additional buildings will be greatly needed and we feel that the hospital should be rushed to completion if possible, and I trust that it may be an accomplished fact before our next annual reports are presented.

Faithfully yours,
(Signed) W. L. Brown,
President.

FATAL ITALIAN STABBING FRAY

Reports Reach City of Row Near Cooperstown in Which One Is Killed.

Late last night Coroner Getman received news that following a row among a gang of Italians near Cooperstown during the evening, one of their number was fatally stabbed and a second was seriously injured and removed to Thanksgiving hospital at the county seat for treatment. The Star was unable to glean any of the essential particulars, as Sheriff Brown was out on duty in collecting evidence and looking after the alleged offenders, and no one could be found who knew the facts. The affair is a shocking one and doubtless will be thoroughly investigated. Coroner Getman expects to visit the county seat early today to ascertain the facts and hold an inquest, if it be deemed necessary.

GAIL KANE IN "HOSE WIFE"

At the Strand Today: Also a Mack Sennett Keystone Comedy.

Gail Kane will be seen in her latest attraction, "Hose Wife," at the Strand today. The story in short is as follows:

The man on trial is her husband. He had cruelly deserted her and she believed him dead. She is the only witness and her testimony means life or death to the accused. Should she testify—and reveal to her lover the fact of her existing marriage or allow the law to take its course and remove forever the man who stands between herself and happiness?

A two reel Mack Sennett Keystone comedy will also be shown, entitled "Tudley at the Throttle," a mile a minute railroad comedy that raises you out of your seat.

Tomorrow

Pathe's latest serial, "The Neglected Wife," will be shown. This story is from Mabel Herbert Uner's famous books, "The Journal of a Neglected Wife" and "The Woman Alone." Through the medium of the screen the famous fiction characters created by Mabel Uner, in her celebrated novels which have been published in leading newspapers from coast to coast, will become real. Mrs. Uner numbers her readers by the million. Ruth Rowland, the Pathe star, plays the part of The Woman Alone, in which she creates one of the greatest characters shown in some time. The first chapter of "The Neglected Wife" will be published in this paper tomorrow. Read it, then see the picture tomorrow, also at the Strand.

1,200 HEAR COMPANY G BAND

Oneonta Theatre Crowded to Capacity by Attraction of Double Bill, Including a Film with Scenes Taken Near Cooperstown—Audience Enthusiastic.

The Oneonta theatre was crowded to its doors with 1,200 people last night several hundred of whom were denied admittance at the first show and had to wait for the second. The attraction was the double bill of a concert by the band of Company G, the last of the season, and the showing of Dickens' "Great Expectations," many of the scenes of which were filmed near Cooperstown.

Opening their concert with the "Star Spangled Banner," and closing it with "America," with every man, woman and child on their feet, the band, 22 pieces strong, was given an enthusiastic reception. The boys, perhaps realizing they may never again play together in Oneonta after they are mustered into the federal service next Sunday, put their souls into their playing, and the results cast a glow of pleasure over the countenance of the leader, Robert E. Gardner.

The band played at the first show and again at the second one, each time rendering a program consisting of the First Regiment March; Forest Whispers—Novallette; Overture, King Rose; and Dunlop Commandery March. A vocal solo was also sung by Paul A. Jackson, accompanied on the piano by his wife.

While the films of "Great Expectations" were being shown, whispered exclamations of surprise were heard throughout the audience when one or that recognized some road, field, or lake scene of the Cooperstown vicinity.

The proceeds of the night amounted to $180, $72 of which were given to the Company G band.

DR. F. H. MARX CHOSEN.

To Be Acting Health Officer During the Absence of Dr. G. W. Augustin.

At a meeting of the health board of the city, held yesterday morning, at which all the members were present, Dr. F. H. Marx was chosen as acting health officer during the absence of Dr. G. W. Augustin at the front. The selection is one that will meet with quite general approval as Dr. Marx has demonstrated his ability since becoming a resident of the city.

Dr. Marx is a graduate of the university and of Bellevue Hospital Medical college of the class of 1911 and the following two years were spent in Bellevue hospital, where he had extensive experience. A considerable part of his training both in the college and in the hospital was under Dr. Biggs, the present state health commissioner, and he is thoroughly up to date in his professional training and knowledge of sanitation. Since locating in this city in 1913 he has enjoyed an extensive practice and is believed to be well fitted for the position.

The health board at this meeting also authorized the employment of a laborer at the public dump to assure the covering of all garbage collected and to further the enforcement of the garbage ordinance. Residents should not overlook the fact that they are required to provide themselves with metal covered garbage cans and to thoroughly drain and securely wrap all garbage before depositing the same in the cans. This assures cleanly cans and obviates the danger of fly breeding receptacles.

The Beach Transfer company is now equipped to handle the garbage and has commenced the work. The duty devolves on the householders to make arrangements for the collection of the garbage or to burn all of it daily. The enforcement of the law will devolve largely upon the health officer.

Take Short Men and Light Weights.

The army, in order that it may soon get its needed 40,000 men, has sent broadcast to every recruiting station in the country to accept any man who is 5 feet 1 inch and over, and 110 pounds and over. This height is three inches under the normal for the man of 21 years, and 18 pounds under normal.

BIRTHS.

Born, July 10, to Mr. and Mrs. Homer W. Cooper of 9 Park street, a 19 pound son, Walter Homer.

THE FAMILY HONOR.

Robert Warwick and June Elvidge at Oneonta Theatre Today.

Robert Warwick and June Elvidge in congenial and pleasing roles, mark "The Family Honor," the World feature screened at the theatre today, matinee and evening. The play in which they appear is a delightfully interesting vehicle for the display of their talents. It tells an enthralling story of modern life and temptations that come to young men and of the particular effort made by one young man's older brother to extricate him from his difficulties. This is a most lavish production and should thoroughly entertain. A late Pathe News is the added attraction. Tomorrow, Alice Joyce in "The Courage of Silence." Admission, 10 cents.

"THE FRAME-UP."

Featuring William Russell at the Happy Hour Theatre Today.

A story which is as fast and furious as the racing car in which the hero speeds over the road to laughter and love. "Universal Current Events," the world's latest news. "To Be or Not to Be Married," Nestor comedy.

JOE MITCHELL CHAPPLE COMING

Famous Editor and Author Who Probably Knows More World Celebrities Than Any Other Private Citizen—“Flashlights of Patriots” a Lecture All Should Hear.

One of the most attractive features of Chautauqua week in Oneonta will be the visit here of Joe Mitchell Chapple, the famous editor and author. He is to deliver his powerful and fascinating lecture “Flashlights of Patriots” on Friday evening and it is one of the features of the week that every man, woman and child in the city should hear. His is the propaganda of just making everybody think more of themselves and feel better toward everybody else, and realize that there is a lot more that they can and would do if they thought they could. It is a glorious old world, after all, according to Joe Chapple. From laughter to tears and from a thrill of a peroration to a quiet little aside chat, there seems to be nothing left to a devoted when Joe Chapple has finished. You just want to hear him again and again and have him keep right on talking, because his material is always fresh and crisp and tingles with the spirit of the hour.

When you hear Mr. Chapple you will listen to a man who has been in Washington meeting celebrities one week every month during the last 20 years. He began it in the time of William McKinley, who took a great interest in the young newspaper man. There are few people living today who have met personally so many celebrities, not in Washington alone, but in all parts of the world. He was with Orville and Wilbur Wright on the sand dunes at Kittyhawk, Virginia, when the flying machines were tested. He has been with Edison in his laboratory at Orange; with John D. Rockefeller on the golf links. He has traveled on presidential specimens, and his face was the one most familiar to Joffre during the notable tour to the midwest. Lord Northcliffe, editor of The Times of London, still continues a correspondence maintained after an acquaintance begun many years ago, when he was Alfred Harmsworth. He has met the Kaiser, Kings, Emperors, and had an audience with Pope Leo—and now he has come to meet us at the Chautauqua.

When he left college, he told the professors that henceforth his textbook would be the United States of America, but it has been more than that, in these later days the world has become his lexicon. He was with King Albert of Belgium when he visited in United States and traveled incognito. It is worth while even just to see Joe, but to hear him—that's one of the special privileges of Chautauqua week.

Given Farewell Reception.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Lee Holley gave a farewell reception in honor of Mrs. P. C. Gilchrist, who soon leaves to reside with her son in New York city. The guests included about 25 friends among the residents of the immediate vicinity of her late home, and the event proved very enjoyable, marked only by the thought of separation.

Mrs. Gilchrist was presented with a pretty brooch by the ladies, and during the afternoon a picnic lunch was served. Mrs. Gilchrist is one of the oldest residents of Watkins avenue, and all neighbors regret her removal from the neighborhood and the city. It is expected that she will leave the city on Saturday.

Bachur of Company D, of the Seventy-first regiment now stationed in this locality, announces that his wedding to Miss Edna Wolf of New York city will be solemnized at Colliers Sunday, July 15. MARRIAGES.

Shannon-Martin.

Cards have been received by friends and relatives in this city announcing the marriage of Dr. Stanley G. Shannon, son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Shannon, 34 Church street, to Miss Leila Jean Martin of Philadelphia. The ceremony was performed at the bride's home in that city Thursday, June 28, by Rev. Dr. E. E. Helmes of the Calvary Methodist Episcopal church.

The groom is well known in this city, having graduated from the Oneonta High school in 1910. After his graduation, he entered the Pennsylvania university and in his senior year enlisted in the National Guard, serving last year in El Paso, Texas. Later he enlisted in the United States army and received his commission as lieutenant last October. He is now stationed at Altoona, Pa., with the Third regiment of that state.

ONEONTA CLUB REMIT DUES

Of Members Who Join the Colors of Government or Allies.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Oneonta club, held last evening, a resolution was passed remitting the dues during the period of service of all members who have joined the colors or who serve either under their own flag or those of the allies. The resolution was unanimously passed.

The club is now represented in the service of the nation by Dr. Arthur W. Cutler, Ivor W. Collins, Earle L. Elmore, Kenneth Griffin, Ralph S. Wyckoff, Lynn Goodrich and Russell Fisk. A roll of honor of the members at the front is to be posted by the secretary at the club house, a step which other organizations in the city have also taken, it is understood.

It Pays to Advertise.

On Saturday last H. A. Pearsall inserted a want advertisement in The Star of a farm which he wished to lease. Despite the fact that the present time is about the most unfavorable time for such a project, Mr. Pearsall had received up to noon yesterday no less than 36 replies and they came from various places about this part of the state. The Star is widely read and as an advertising medium it has no equal in Central New York.

Hereafter the Francis Motor Sales company's show rooms will remain open until 10 o'clock Wednesday and Saturday evenings. Advt. 3t

CARNEGIE AVOIDS SKIBO AS A HOME

Feels That War Changes Have Made It Undesirable.

FEEBLE UNDER HIS 82 YEARS

Multimillionaire Has Been a Semi-Invalid Since an Attack of Grip, and, Much to His Disappointment, He is Prohibited From Seeing Any One Except a Few Close Friends.

Andrew Carnegie, who before the United States entry into the war was perhaps the world's foremost peace advocate, has been so touched by the changes in Scotland that he has decided to give up Skibo Castle at Dumfries, Scotland, as a summer home. Instead he will spend this summer at Lenox, Mass.

It was announced that he nor any member of his family probably would ever again visit Skibo Castle because of changes, physical and sentimental, caused by the war.

Mr. Carnegie is feeble and a semi-invalid, and he has been under the care of two nurses for some time, but this condition, it is said, has resulted from the grip and a threatened pneumonia attack of more than a year ago. His somewhat secluded life and withdrawal from all public activities have given rise to frequent statements concerning his health. Mr. Carnegie is in his eighty-second year.

Since his retirement he has been compelled to limit the number of his daily visitors, and he now meets and talks with only a few of his oldest and closest friends. This is not to his liking, but in obedience to his physician, who decided that Mr. Carnegie frequently overtaxed his strength by seeing all callers.

Affected by the War.

Identified so long with the international peace movement, Mr. Carnegie is more severely affected by the world war than most men. In talks with his intimate friends he has expressed his disappointment at the way it has spread and continued. One of his confidants said:

"The war came, as we all know, as a shock to Mr. Carnegie. The continuation of it over so many months has been even a harder blow to him and to the cause which he had so close at heart."

Dr. Henry S. Pritchett, head of the Carnegie foundation, said he and his associates frequently consult with Mr. Carnegie, although all of his philanthropic activities had long ago been placed in charge of the various authorized administrative bodies, of which the foundation is the general supervising power.

Shadowbrook, the new summer home of the Carnegies, recently purchased from the estate of Anson Phelps Stokes, is the first country place owned here by Mr. Carnegie. It will be recalled that he formerly spent his vacations at Skibo castle, in Scotland. It is said that no member of the Carnegie family will ever desire to live in the Scotland mansion again, principally because of the changes brought about by the war. Many of the people there whom Mr. Carnegie knew as neighbors and friends have gone away, some have lost their lives in the war, and conditions as they may exist after the conflict do not appeal to Mr. Carnegie.

The Carnegie estate in Scotland and other comprise the larger part of one county. While the castle and grounds are attractive and flourishing, a large part of the estate is not adapted readily to cultivation. A few days ago, when Sir Howard Peters of Montreal called on Mr. Carnegie and discussed intensive farming throughout Britain to meet the U. S. demand and made the suggestion that the Skibo lands be used, Mr. Carnegie replied:

"Yes; maybe potatoes could be grown there, but if any one can raise a crop of anything it would be more than I have ever been able to accomplish."

THE HELPING HAND.

Always be willing to extend the helping hand. Give the young and struggling a word of encouragement when you can. Utter the kind word when you see that it is deserved. The thought that "no one cares and no one knows" blights many a bud of promise and often breeds discouragement.

QUARTER MILLION DOLLARS.

Stake for Red Cross in Binghamton After Ringing Address by E. Pottle.

Monday of this week the committee having in charge the Red Cross War fund contribution for Binghamton and Broome county, set their stakes at $100,000, which after vigorous effort it was believed could be raised. On that day there came to the city a stalwart, tall, bronzed American who had seen ambulance service with the French army and who had not waited for war to be declared before he gave himself to the service. It was Emory Pottle, who earlier in the year stirred Oneonta to liberal benefactions in behalf of the ambulance service, and who is now devoting himself, heart and soul to the work.

A talk with about a hundred members of the City Chamber of Commerce, a lunch Tuesday afternoon with a little larger number of leading men and women of the city, and the thing was done—more than done, because from this not large gathering alone $133,000 was raised. Then there was such a mass meeting as Binghamton never before saw in the High school auditorium, and Pottle spoke again. Further opportunity to subscribe was given and $35,000 more was pledged, making a total of $168,000 raised. The committee, which had earlier in the day raised its stakes to $175,000, raised them again to a quarter of a million, and there is no doubt that the sum will be raised.

Much credit is due to the patriotic citizens of Binghamton for their gifts; and much to Mr. Pottle, who stirred their hearts with his vivid recital of things seen and their patriotism by his home drive of stern facts. Oneonta, which claims Mr. Pottle as a graduate of its Normal school, is proud of his work and of its fellow citizens in Binghamton.

How to Stop Loss of Hair and Start New Growth

If your hair is thinning out, lifeless, full of dandruff and your head itches like mad, it's a sure sign of the dangerous dandruff germ, and quick action must be taken to save what hair you have and start a new growth. Don't wait until the hair root is dead, for then nothing can help you, but get from your druggist four ounces of Parisian Sage—it isn't too much and there is nothing you could use that's any better. Dr. Sangreth, the famous Paris specialist, discovered that dandruff and falling hair are caused by the microbe—then came the discovery of the value of Parisian Sage (liquid form) to destroy this germ, prevent falling hair and the formation of dandruff. A few messages with Parisian Sage are all that are usually needed, and very soon you should be able to see the new hair coming in. Parisian Sage is woman's favorite hair dressing, because it will not stain and makes the hair lustrous, soft and fluffy. Be sure you get Parisian Sage (liquid form), for this brand is guaranteed. H. R. Gillespie can supply you.

What is It? You want it. Your neighbor would use no other. We want you to use it because we know you will be satisfied. Its popular price. It spells quality. Its Otsego coffee. Your grocer has it. Adv 11

OFFICERS' TRAINING CAMP

Interesting Account of Recent Visit of R. Hume Grant of Delhi to Sackett Harbor — A Note From Ralph S. Wyckoff.

Editor Star:—As frequently items are appearing in the daily papers about Officers' Training camps, I don't know as I shall be able to add much that would be of interest to your readers; although, I recently had the privilege of spending two days in one of the sixteen camps, located in different sections of the United States and devoted to the training of officers for the national army. I am, however, sending this letter by suggestion of your Delhi correspondent.

In New York state are located two camps, one at Plattsburg and one at Sackett Harbor. The New York City papers give much more attention in their columns to the camp at Plattsburg than to that at Sackett Harbor; presumably, because the young men from that city, are at the former mentioned place. Plattsburg accommodates the men from New York City and the New England states, while at Madison Barracks are the boys from "up-state," New York and a portion of Pennsylvania. Madison Barracks, which I visited, are located at Sackett Harbor, which is on Black river bay, at the eastern end of Lake Ontario. This place has been a military post at least since the war of 1812, and is called Madison, in honor of James Madison, who was president during this war. On the camp ground where the officers are receiving their training was fought the battle known in history as the battle of Sackett Harbor, in which the British were defeated by the regulars and militia stationed at this post. It was from this harbor in this same war that some of the naval expeditions were sent out that finally helped drive the British navy from the Great Lakes. It may be interesting to recall, for the purpose of comparison, that in that war, taking place 105 years since—the American army consisted of 25,000 regulars and 100,000 militia and that congress appropriated eleven millions of dollars for its prosecution. The population of New York state, at present is nearly two millions greater than was the entire population of the United States at the above period.

But I suppose its not history you want—but something about the boys themselves and their surroundings. As you approach from the harbor, you pass through the little village of Sackett Harbor and come upon the ground where is stationed the field artillery—a little farther on you have reached the summit, as the land ascends gently from the water side, and find yourself surrounded by the officers' houses constructed of stone. To your left and along one side of the parade ground extend the hospital, administration building and the permanent barracks for soldiers, now occupied by officer students. All the above are permanent buildings of brick. At right angles to above and extending across the parade ground, are the temporary barracks, ten in number, including one which is the headquarters of the Y. M. C. A.

These temporary buildings have their gable ends facing the parade ground and the officers' headquarters. These barracks are each about 160 feet long by about 20 feet wide, and one-story high, having a sort of "lean to" on the side containing the toilets and shower baths. On looking inside you will see two rows of cots extending the entire length, two close together—then a narrow space and then two more and so on. Immediately behind each barrack is another, not quite long but of about the same proportions and this is the company mess. Each of these outfits houses about 150 men and altogether they accommodate about 1,500 men.

Part of the time the government has allowed a daily ration costing 50 cents and part of the time one costing 75 cents. The rations have been simple but substantial and in sufficient quantities; however, the government like the private housekeeper, has had much trouble with cooks. The cooks have been civilians not under military control and I guess from all reports a good many of them have been "sons of sea cooks." It may be interesting for your readers who are boy scouts to know that a large barrack, now houses a goodly number of boy scouts, who wait on the "mess" for the officer students and for which service, they receive their rations and $25 per month, beside the opportunity to pick up much military knowledge, if so disposed.

The government provided for the training of 40,000 officers, for which appointments there were 200,000 applications. After a preliminary examination, approximately 40,000 were admitted to the various training camps, located at various places through the United States. At Madison Barracks, a very large percentage of the young men are college men or from professional schools and I suppose this percentage holds good at the other camps. They came to the barracks for "intensive military training" and they seem to be getting what they came for as they are up at 5:15. At 7, with breakfast over, they drill, engage in physical exercises, dig trenches, practice shooting at the targets, hike it on field work, etc. From 1:30 to 5:30 the same line of work is followed, and from 7 to 9:30 they study in their "shacks" as the boys call them. These activities, with odd moments taken up with keeping guns, clothes and shoes in order make them, indeed, busy lads.

Almost from the formation of the camps a weeding out process has been going on and still continues; this has resulted in honorable discharges being given to a good many of the students. While positive information cannot be obtained, the idea seems to be abroad that at the end of their training period about August 15, perhaps one-third will receive commissions—one-third may be given further training—and the last third given an honorable discharge. To show the patriotic spirit which prevails at Madison Barracks, it is understood that almost to a man, those failing to receive commissions will not "sulk in their tents," but at once re-enlist as privates in some branch of the service.

While at camp it was my good fortune to witness a regimental parade of the entire infantry force, at the barracks and as company after company passed in review or stood "at attention," one could not help but admire the boys or fail to note the determined expression on each face. The cast of countenance that prevailed, was that of the athlete as he stands ready to engage in some contest and awaits the word "go."

As I stood facing this Officers' Reserve corps, could I have been possessed of the fiery eloquence of Andrew Jackson, should have liked the privilege of saying to them "Our boys—soon to be Pershing's boys—by the great eternal when you get over there—don't forget the Lusitania nor the sneaking submarine—soak it to them—Give them the Yankee wallop—give them—!!"

A Note from Ralph S. Wyckoff.

In a personal letter received yesterday from Ralph S. Wyckoff, formerly the valued telegraph editor of The Star but now in training at Madison Barracks, is the following, which will be of local interest:

"I certainly like the work here very much and feel that I am getting a great deal of good out of it, both mentally and physically. Robinson, Lull, Crotty and Herb Getman, the other Oneonta men here at Madison, are getting along nicely and have withstood the ravages of 'cuts,' which have reduced our numbers by nearly 500. Many of the men are unable to stand the physical strain, while others do not possess the necessary mental qualifications; but they are fast being weeded out."

Bids Wanted.

On or before the twentieth day of July, 1917, the local board of the State Normal school will receive sealed bids for furnishing fifteen tons of chest-nut size and seventy-five ton of egg size of first class anthracite coal, screened. Also bids for 500 tons of first-class Star Miller vein, or Candiff Miller vein soft coal; or Stokedale soft coal, the same to be delivered at the Center street or Normal school buildings when directed. The board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

TRACTOR TO OPEN ROADS IN TROPICS

Possibilities Shown by War May Solve Commercial Transportation.

Measured by their performances in the European war, the motorcar and the flying machine may soon prove decisive factors in the commercial development of the tropics, according to O. P. Austin, statistician of the National City Bank of New York city.

Mr. Austin says that the failure of the tropical sections of the world to develop when they possess a greater producing power per acre or square mile than the temperate zones is due primarily to lack of transportation facilities. Animal power cannot cope with climatic conditions as a medium of transportation in the tropics. He suggests that the commercial automobile and the caterpillar tractor for roadless areas may solve the transportation problem of the tropics, while the airplane may serve the purpose of exploration and travel.

"The system of mechanical power necessary for transportation in the tropics between the place of production and the common carrier," said Mr. Austin, "has apparently been brought into practical operation by the necessities of the war. While man had invented the automobile and the flying machine before the war, he had only begun to realize their practical value, and especially the practicability of operating the horseless vehicle over undeveloped and roadless areas.

"But the necessities of the war have sharpened his wits, and today millions of men and untold quantities of merchandise are being transported by American and other horseless vehicles over sections of Europe in which, however good their roads may once have been, they can no longer be relied upon as highways for this necessary transportation, which goes on day and night and with an activity heretofore undreamed of. If the development of the horseless vehicle and flying machine for exploration, travel and communication should render practicable the commercial development of the tropical half of the world's land area their value to man would far exceed the cost of the war in which their practical qualities have been made apparent."

As evidence of the demand in temperate zones for tropical products, Mr. Austin cited the fact that in 1916 the United States alone took merchandise of this kind worth $1,000,000,000.

Rosebushes.

Quite frequently we find rosebushes not producing as fine large roses as they did during other seasons. Something is lacking, and if fertilizers have been applied and these do not seem to bring out the good qualities something else is needed.

Perhaps the roses need iron. One thing is certain—a little iron will not hurt them. Try burying a few cans beneath the rosebushes. Mash them flat and bury them a few inches beneath the surface of the soil, near enough to the roots of the roses that the roots can secure some of the iron and carry it to the foliage and the flowers.

From three to a half dozen cans to a bush is enough. The tin soon rusts off, and the thin sheet of iron will be rapidly gathered up by the action of the elements, and it is surprising how soon a can will wholly disappear.—Philadelphia North American.

Road Construction in Texas.

More attention is being given to the construction of good roads in Texas than was ever before known in the state. Besides the work that is in progress in more than a hundred counties, bond issues aggregating more than $10,000,000 have been voted recently and are pending. For more than five years the advocates of good roads have conducted a persistent campaign for the issuing of bonds by the counties. This missionary work is now bearing fruit in a way that indicates that Texas is soon to take front rank with other states in modern highways.

All that is needed to round out and make completely effective the good roads campaign is a state highway commission and a law that will bring uniformity to the different road systems. It is expected that this legislation will be obtained when the legislature convenes in January.

Mothers' Club Meets.

The lawn party, which was to have been held on the lawn of the First Baptist church yesterday afternoon by the Mothers' club of that church, was held inside the church on account of the inclement weather. A good attendance was had, however. The regular business of the club was transacted, after which a tea was served. Despite the disappointment over the weather an enjoyable afternoon was spent.

Field Day at West Oneonta.

The Woman's Mission circle of the West Oneonta Free Baptist church will hold its annual field day at Mrs. Charles Clark's today. Those unable to walk to Mrs. Clark's will meet at Mrs. George Arnold's, where conveyances will be ready to carry them. It is an all day affair. Bring refreshments, plate, cup, fork and spoon.
